My dear Reeta,

May God bless you. I am well here and wish you to be the same. Know your examination is drawing near and also I hope you must be working very hard these days. It is high time for you to make the best use of it. You should work day and night to get a meritorious position in the class, but not at the risk of your health. You know you are a worthy daughter of a worthy father.

You should always keep in view that work is worship and there is no substitute for hard labour which may pay you in the long run. Everybody at home is worried about your studies. We all have high hopes from you. Our ambition is to see you at the top of the list in your M.A. Final examinations. I hope you shall not leave any stone unturned to fulfil our wishes. Wish you a bright future and hope to hear soon.

Yours loving Daddy,
RAMESH

Thank You
